My thesis project and Krzysztof was my advisor.

A rat is running all its life,
running for food, running for shelter,
running from one place to another,
A rat is a fugitive drifting in the world,
cuz a rat has no such place that it can call home.

A rat is anonymous. It has no name. Nor is it different

from any other rat.

A rat could not speak. A rat only makes noises.

A rat has little control on its life.

A rat lives in a big world.

A rat is very, very small.
